01 — Brand Concept

OQUVA is a design-led water technology brand creating thoughtfully engineered filtration products for modern homes. The brand brings together industrial design, considered technology, and everyday simplicity to redefine how people experience water at home.

Rather than treating filtration as a purely functional appliance, OQUVA sees it as an essential part of the modern living environment — designed to work seamlessly, look considered, and feel effortless to use.

Brand idea

Better water shouldn't require complicated technology or ugly hardware.
OQUVA transforms everyday water filtration into a simpler, more considered part of modern life.

BRAND ESSENCE

Thoughtful Water Technology

BRAND PROMISE

A more considered water experience, designed around everyday life.

CORE PRINCIPLE

Filtration × Design × Simplicity

OQUVA

02 — The Brand Problem

Traditional water filtration products often prioritise function over experience. Many rely on bulky forms, complicated interfaces, technical-looking components, and visual language that feels disconnected from contemporary home design.

As a result, filtration is often perceived as a necessary appliance rather than a thoughtfully designed part of everyday living.

THE CHALLENGE

- Technical and intimidating product language
- Bulky forms that are difficult to integrate into modern homes
- Complicated-looking systems and interfaces
- Limited emotional connection with consumers
- A visual identity that often feels generic or purely functional

BRAND POSITIONING

OQUVA is a design-led water filtration brand creating thoughtfully engineered products that bring together functional performance, refined industrial design, and everyday simplicity.

THE OPPORTUNITY

To make water filtration feel more intuitive, more considered, and more connected to the spaces where people live.

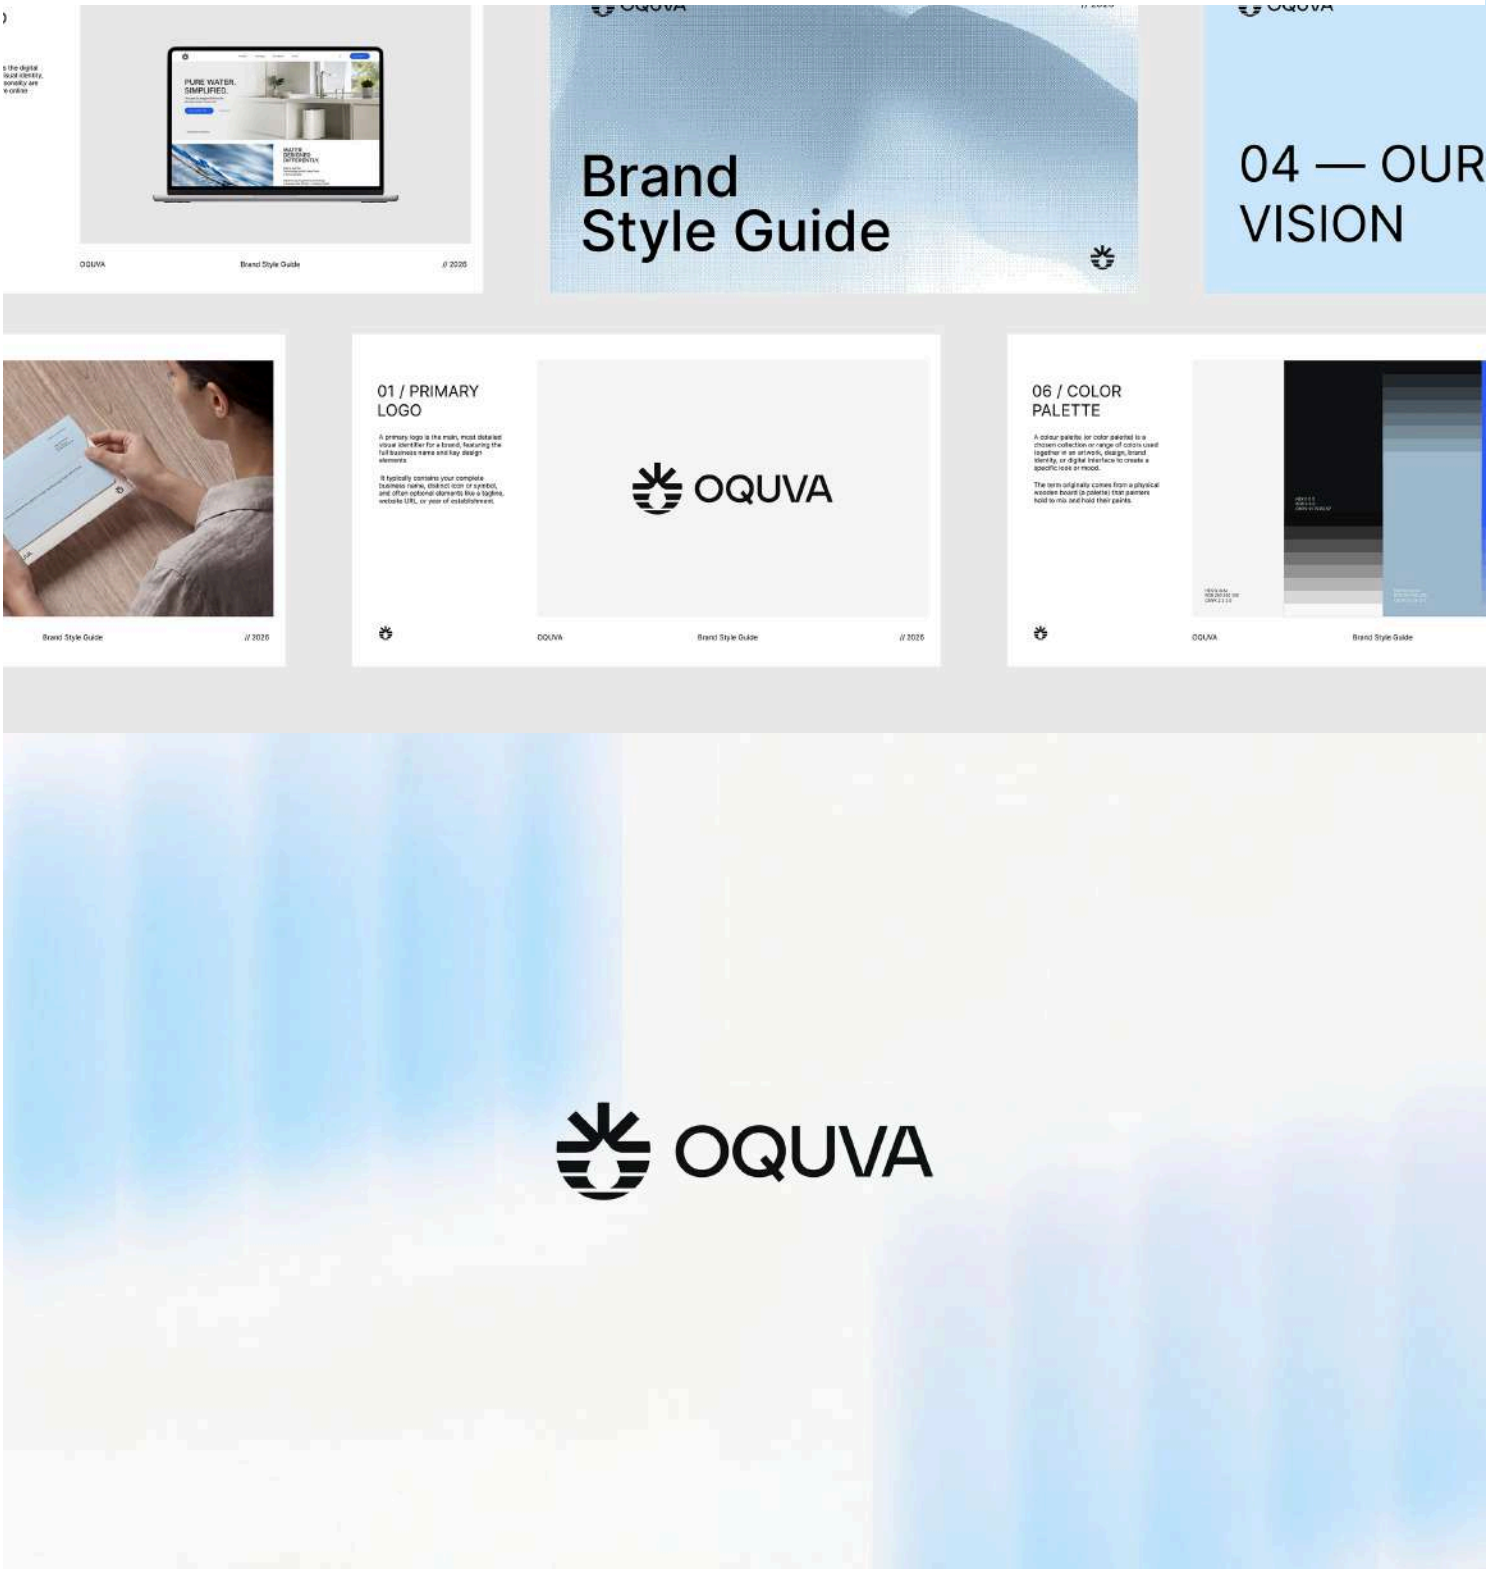

THE SHIFT

From Hidden Appliance → Considered Home Essential

Atyp TEST is the primary typeface of the OQUVA brand, used to establish a distinctive and recognisable visual voice.

The combination of Atyp TEST and Inter creates a balance between distinctive visual expression and functional clarity. Atyp TEST brings character, confidence, and a contemporary design language to the brand, while Inter ensures readability, consistency, and accessibility across digital and informational applications.

Inter is the secondary typeface, selected for its clarity, versatility, and strong readability across digital and informational applications.

It supports the expressive character of Atyp TEST by keeping supporting content clean, structured, and easy to navigate. Its consistent appearance makes it suitable for product information, user interfaces, descriptions, technical details, and everyday brand communication.

// 2026

We imagine a world where essential home technology is designed with the same care as the spaces, objects, and daily rituals that surround it. A world where products are intuitive to use, considered in form, and purposeful in function.
